Dear Carl, re 112th INCT; 4th O.D. sources 10/10/73

There has been blatant WH action on what is called referrals that almost without exception really are not. Among the records I received 9/19/73 are the enclosed supposedly of information from the 112th records and quoting Lesky and Stringfellow on what would appear to be impossible.

The Patterson FD report need not refer to Lesky. Holmes is a likely candidate. He is not mentioned in the translations.

I do not recall any prior "Silver Dollar" War room references. The time of this call, five minutes before the assassination, is a bit provocative. Any ideas?

I think that while we may not now know all the police reasons for military intelligence we do know that they were high up and have the identifications of at least those two.

What this does not resolve is whether the police provided such terrible, dangerously wrong information, whether the army got it garbled or made it this provocative on purpose, or whether a combination of these and perhaps other factors are involved.

Going along with this there was that Air Force alert for a possible attack on Cuba, was it McDill Field? Do you recall the source of that report?

It is interesting that the Patterson record is initialed by Lesky, Holmes and the supervisor, Hess, but that only the Lesky initialing is dated. I am not certain about the other initials.

These are the kinds of records I am wary about, based on the track records of others like Scott and the Albert, who made sensational use of the supposed presence of two men two days early typing Dudley Plaza out through sights.

I'd much prefer that they not be entered with these copies.

Particularly not when there is pending other and responsible attention to other withheld materials.

Please excuse my temporary typing in by error spelling of Dourity.

When I thought I'd best check and also looked for Stringfellow in the index in 1/3 I find no listing of him.
